

Bonaldo 25 Collection: Sofas

BELLOALTO sofa, design by Gabriele and Oscar Buratti

Belloalto is a new modular sofa system designed by Gabriele and Oscar Buratti for Bonaldo. The name itself reflects its purpose: the distinctive feature of this sofa is the generous height of the backrest, which provides excellent support for the shoulders and head, delivering a top-notch relaxation experience.

The two horizontal elements serve both aesthetic and functional purposes: the lumbar cushion spans horizontally across the backrest, while the wide, low armrest enhances comfort and balances the sofa's overall proportions.

Belloalto is a versatile system that allows for the creation of both linear and corner sofas. This flexibility is achieved through the addition of chaise longues and terminal elements, the latter of which can also be fitted with high armrests that align with the backrest.

BRIK sofa, design by Martina and Massimo Castagna

Brik is the new collection of sofas designed for Bonaldo by Martina and Massimo Castagna. The name "Brik," which references a brick as a symbol of modular design, pays homage to the essence of the sofa's design.

The system consists of a central element, a corner element, a pouf, and an armchair, all characterized by a soft and welcoming aesthetic. Inspired by the compositional style of the 1980s, these modules can be arranged next to one another, breaking free from the rigid and formal layouts that have dominated in recent years.

Brik's size and versatility make it suitable for a wide range of configurations. It works perfectly for individual setups in residential living areas, as well as for larger spaces where each element can serve as a single seat—either single-sided or double-sided - to promote a new concept of conviviality.
